2008 Congressional Candidate Pledge to Promote English

The late U.S. Senator S.I. Hayakawa of California founded U.S. English, Inc. in 1983 with the objective of making English the official language of the United States government because he believed that a nation divided by language could not prosper. Thirty states have adopted some form of official English. The House of Representatives is currently considering official English legislation, H.R. 997, which has bi-partisan support. Since you are seeking political office, U.S. English, Inc. would appreciate your answer to the following question. Your answer to this question will be used to inform our members of your stance on official English legislation. Thank you.

1. If elected, would you sponsor legislation to make English the official language of the United States government?
